BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 25.—Every agency of the law in western Pennsylvania swept the hills of state today, attempting to uncover a tangible clue to the identity of a gang of three men who looted a $66,000 payroll shipment of registered mail here yesterday.

Complete Escape

Last seen as they roared out of sight after passing through Evans City, the bandits apparently had made a complete escape through the holes of an emergency police dragnet. Police officials expressed belief the bandits had either succeeded in crossing the Ohio state-border or were hiding somewhere in the Beaver Valley or Pittsburgh areas.

With them were the contents of three registered mail pouches, $66,000 in cash. The bags themselves were being sought as a possible clue. Federal investigators expressed the thought that the bandits may have dropped them by the way in their mad flight to freedom.

Only a few minutes before they began their rush into the rolling hills west of this city, the quartet had forced Maxwell C. Lackey's truck to the curb and seized the mail pouches after threatening the driver with death and ordering him to lie on the floor of the car.

They began a mad dash. A few miles from the scene, the get-away car braked to a stop. One of the highwaymen jumped from his seat, unfastened Ohio license plates which had covered Georgia tags. The fleeing bandits then continued pelting through the town of Evans City and disappeared.

Roads Blocked

State police and highway patrol officers failed to support the theory the men had fled to Ohio. They pointed out that every road into the neighboring state had been blockaded by special details of state, county and city authorities.

Meanwhile, department of justice and postal inspectors took up the chase, at first, but gradually gaining momentum, the federal agents this morning were perfecting the plans for their section of the hunt.

Reports that an airplane may have been used in the robbery as part of the get-away plan, still remained unconfirmed.

Five children were injured, two seriously, Friday night, when an automobile operated by Sam De Felice, 719 Mable street, crashed into a parked automobile on Pearson street. Four of the children are in the New Castle hospital and De Felice is under arrest, charged with operating a car while intoxicated. He will be formally charged with operating a car while under the influence of liquor and failure to stop and render assistance by Police Chief Haven before Alderman O. H. P. Green to-day.

The Injured

The list of injured follows:

Rose Fava, aged 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Fava, of 612 Pearson street, laceration of both legs, face and body.

Philomena Montanaro, 13, of Cleveland, fractured left leg. She is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dominic G. Lovato, of 608 Pearson street.

Madeline Lombard, of 608 Pearson street, aged 12, bruises about legs and body.

Angeline Berto, 608½ Pearson St., sustained minor injuries about the body and legs.

Mary Fava, aged 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Fava, of 612 Pearson street, after receiving first aid treatment Friday night, returned to her home. The remaining four girls are confined to the New Castle hospital.

In A Hurry

The only thought I had at the time was that some driver was inviting himself to the hospital, but about noon when I heard of the robbery in Butler it occurred to me that the car may have contained the bandits. There were either three or four men in the car. It was a large car and might have been either a Lincoln or a Cadillac."

It is entirely possible that this car was the car containing the bandits who robbed the Butler mail truck. Butler residents stated at the time that the car went towards Evans City. From Evans City it could have gone over to Beaver Falls or Ellwood City and thence through New Castle to Youngstown.

The fact that the car used originally had Youngstown license plates on it lends credence to the suspicion that the bandits may have returned to Ohio. In addition the route suggested above was one that was not guarded early in the day and would have provided an escape channel for them.

NO CONFIRMATION ON AIRPLANE ESCAPE

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 25.—Every agency of the law in western Pennsylvania swept the hills of state today, attempting to uncover a tangible clue to the identity of a gang of three men who looted a $66,000
payroll shipment of registered mail here yesterday.

Complete Escape

Last seen as they roared out of sight after passing through Evans City, the bandits apparently had made a complete escape through the holes of an emergency police dragnet.
Police officials expressed belief the bandits had either succeeded in crossing the Ohio state border or were hiding somewhere in the Beaver Valley or Pittsburgh areas.

With them were the contents of three registered mail pouches, $66,000 in cash. The bags themselves were being sought as a possible clue.
Federal investigators expressed the thought that the bandits may have dropped them by the way in their mad flight to freedom.

Only a few minutes before they began their rush into the rolling hills west of this city, the quartet had forced Maxwell C. Lackey, the driver, to the curb and seized the mail pouches after threatening the driver with death and ordering him to lie on the floor of the car.

Then began a mad dash. A few miles from the scene, the get-away car braked to a stop. One of the highwaymen jumped from his seat, unfastened Ohio license plates which had covered Georgia tags. The fleeing bandits then continued pelting through the town of Evans City and disappeared.

Roads Blocked

State police and highway patrol officers failed to support the theory the men had fled to Ohio. They pointed out that every road into the neighboring state had been blockaded by special details of state, county and city authorities.

Meanwhile, department of justice and postal inspectors took up the chase, at first, but gradually gaining momentum, the federal agents this morning were perfecting the plans for their section of the hunt.

Reports that an airplane may have been used in the robbery as part of the get-away plans still remained unconfirmed.

TAYLOR BLAMES MESS ON ADMINISTRATION

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—A special session of the Legislature to provide funds for relief became a more imminent possibility today with important developments here and in Washington.

Briefly, these developments were:
1. President Roosevelt declared at his regular bi-weekly press conference that Pennsylvania must bear its share of the relief burden and that if a special session was necessary, he favored such action.

2. Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, declared the state was expected to do its part.

3. Gov. Gifford Pinchot, who suddenly entered the Leroy Sanitarium, New York City, for what he said was his annual "rest cure" announced he would communicate with Hopkins by telephone today in a final effort to stave off a special session.

4. M. Harvey Taylor, state Republican chairman, issued a statement laying "the whole mess" at the door of the federal administration.

5. The executive council of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Supervintendents, at whose in-

JOHNSON'S AUTHORITY IN NRA TO BE CURBED

Will Devote Time Upon Legislation In Next Congress

General Johnson To Be Member Of NRA Board, But Probably Not Chairman

DONALD RICHBERG TO WIELD POWER

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The fanfare and speculation over impending changes in the NRA and in the position of its dynamic administrator Hugh S. Johnson, was today boiled down to a few salient factors.

No less a person than President Roosevelt did the boiling down. As a consequence of a frank discussion of the situation by the president, the known facts were:

Retains Title.

1.—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson will retain his title, but his actual work at the helm of the big recovery machine will be lessened and his executive authority probably curtailed materially.

2.—Johnson will devote a considerable part of his time to the formation of a legislative program for the next congress designed to make certain portions of the NRA permanent.

3.—NRA phases which the president has already decided will be made permanent include child labor restrictions, maximum hours and unfair practice regulations—as well as others not yet decided upon.

4.—The present structure of the recovery machinery will be materially changed to provide what Mr. Roosevelt described as an interim plan of administration to be operative until permanent legislation is adopted.

5.—The so-called "interim" operating setup will in all probability embrace the setting up of a board to control NRA, with Johnson a part of, but not its chairman.

6.—Donald R. Richberg, who has served as NRA counsel since the big machine was built, will "occupy a commanding position in. If he does not head the new structure.

Clears Mystery.

The president's candid discussion of the NRA problem went a long way towards clearing up the mystery that has surrounded the reorganization program. It did not, on the other hand, explain the executive's decision to delay putting the organization into effect another two weeks when all prior indications pointed to much speedier action. By the same token, it threw no real light on the issues of the reorganization plan which have, obviously, resulted in some friction between Johnson and Richberg.

Both the NRA administrator and Richberg insist their differences of opinion regarding reorganization were not fundamental, yet the fact remains that in recent conferences on this matter, the president has talked to Johnson and Richberg separately—not together as was the case in the old days.

Johnson, significantly, returned after his meeting with the president yesterday, to Bethany Beach, Del., where he is vacationing, while Richberg will remain in Washington closely in touch with all parts of the NRA machine, the administrator will spend his days "resting" until two weeks from Monday.

As for the legislative planning which has been assigned Johnson, this is a job which the administrator will not do alone. The president said in his press conference yesterday that in addition to Johnson, the AAA and half a dozen other governmental agencies are cooperating in working out a program of permanent legislation to retain the good, and discard the bad, in NRA.

De Felice is alleged to have driven the car south on Pearson street and it crashed into the side of the car. De Felice did not stop. Genovese and several other men gave pursuit.

In his flight, De Felice is alleged to have also crashed into the automobile of Jesse Rodriguez, 314 East Division street. The latter's auto was parked on Pollock avenue.

Rodriguez also joined in the pursuit and the pursuers found that De Felice abandoned his car on Phillips street. The pursuers took him in charge for the purpose of handing him into the custody of the police.

In the meanwhile, the police investigated the ownership of the car and visited the home of Lawrence Burgo, East Washington street. It was there that the men who had caught De Felice took him.

Burgo was at home and Lieutenant of police McMillen, who had gone to the Burgo home, questioned both men. He found they had been drinking together and that De Felice, who had no driver's license, had taken Burgo's car.

De Felice was removed to the city jail and today in police court Mayor Mayne told him what he is alleged to have done and then informed him a physician had examined and found him under the influence of liquor.

He instructed that he be charged with driving a car while drunk.

Corn Roasts Of Local Club Seem To Be Cue For J. Pluvius To Upset Sprinkler

All the drought-stricken western farmers need to do to get some rain is to write the New Castle Kiwanis club out to their parched areas for a corn roast, or something—they'd be almost sure of getting rain, Kiwanians believe.

Out at the Marvin-Falls cottage along the Neshannock creek they got it last night, too, but the corn roast they had postponed because of an earlier cloud burst wasn't postponed this time. With gay spirits 55 Kiwanians, their wives and guests forgot the dampness and had a rollicking good time.

"We Built" is the Kiwanis slogan—but if you had seen the Kiwanis cars going over the washed out roads near the Neshannock Falls camp you'd have agreed that "we Built" might have been substituted for the evening. And eat, they did.

H. Lee Marvin and William Falls prepared the corn and wiener for the guests while Mrs. Marvin and Mrs. John Ruppert prepared delicious coffee. The Kiwanians helped.

Around a whooping bonfire after dinner an informal program of entertainment was staged, after which the group departed for home.

Dr. J. Lumen Popp was chairman of the evening arrangements, and with last night's affair now history, he's willing to let the Lions Club pick the next Kiwanis outing date.

Several Other Accidents Of Minor Nature Occur

(International News Service)

In one accident, Dominick Cioffia, 1513 Pennsylvania avenue, reported he was driving a car in Long avenue and when he mad the turn into Long avenue a boy was knocked to the ground by his bicycle. The lad was not hurt.

C. S. Jarrett, 650 South Ray street reported the truck operated by Harry K. Beck of Sharon hit his auto in Highland avenue.

Hopkins had a luncheon engagement with the President today and it was believed by officials of the federal emergency administration that the Pennsylvania situation would undergo further discussion at that time.

While officials of the state emergency relief administration declined to discuss the new crisis they exhibited concern over the situation.

It was pointed out that even if a special session were summoned as quickly as possible and new revenue raising measures adopted, the money would not become available in time for September relief expenditures.

JOHNSON'S AUTHORITY IN NRA TO BE CURBED

Will Devote Time Upon Legislation In Next Congress

General Johnson To Be Member Of NRA Board, But Probably Not Chairman

DONALD RICHBERG
TO WIELD POWER

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The fanfare and speculation over pending changes in the NRA and in the position of its dynamic administrator Hugh S. Johnson, was today hotted down to a few salient factors.

Retains Title.

—Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson will retain his title, but his actual work at the helm of the big recovery machine will be lessened and his executive authority probably curtailed materially.

—Johnson will devote a considerable part of his time to the formation of a legislative program for the next congress designed to make certain parts of the NRA permanent.

—NRA phases which the president has already decided will be made permanent include child labor restrictions, maximum hours and unfair practice regulations—as well as others not yet decided upon.

—The present structure of the recovery machinery will be materially changed to provide what Mr. Roosevelt described as an interim plan of administration to be operative until permanent legislation is adopted.

—The so-called "interim" operating setup will in all probability embrace the setting up of a board to control NRA, with Johnson a part of, but not its chairman.

—Donald R. Richberg, who has served as NRA counsel since the big machine was built, will occupy a commanding position in, if he does not head the new structure.

Clears Mystery.

The president's candid discussion of the NRA problem went a long way towards clearing up the mystery that has surrounded the reorganization program. It did not, on the other hand, explain the executive's decision to delay putting the organization into effect another two weeks when all prior indications pointed to much speedier action. By the same token, it threw no real light on the issues of the reorganization plan which have, obviously, resulted in some friction between Johnson and Richberg.

Both the NRA administrator and Richberg insist their differences of opinion regarding reorganization were not fundamental, yet the fact remains that in recent conferences on this matter, the president has talked to Johnson and Richberg separately—not together as was the case in the old days.

Johnson, significantly, returned after his meeting with the president yesterday, to Bethany Beach, Del., where he is vacationing, while Richberg will remain in Washington, closely in touch with all parts of the NRA machine. The administrator will spend his days "resting" until two weeks from Monday.

As for the legislative planning which has been assigned Johnson, this is a job which the administrator will not do alone. The president said in his press conference yesterday that in addition to Johnson, the AAA and half a dozen other governmental agencies are cooperating in working out a program of permanent legislation to retain the good, and discard the bad, in NRA.

In his flight, De Felice is alleged to have also crashed into the automobile of Jesse Rodriguez, 314 East Division street. The latter's auto was parked on Pollock avenue.

Rodriguez also joined in the pursuit and the pursuers found that De Felice abandoned his car on Philippi street. The pursuers took him in charge for the purpose of handing him into the custody of the police.

In the meanwhile the police investigated the ownership of the car and visited the home of Lawrence Burgo, East Washington street. It was there that the men who had taken De Felice took him.

Burgo was at home and Lieutenant of police McMullen who had gone to the Burgo home, questioned both men. He found they had been drinking together and that De Felice, who had no driver's license, had taken Burgo's car.

De Felice was removed to the city jail and today in police court Mayor Mayne told him what he is alleged to have done and then informed him a physician had examined and found him under the influence of liquor.

He instructed that he be charged with driving a car while drunk.

Corn Roasts Of Local Club Seem To Be Cue For J. Pluvius To Upset Sprinkler

All the drought-stricken western farmers need to do get some rain is to write the New Castle Kiwanis club out to their parched areas for a corn roast, or something—they'd be almost sure of getting rain, Kiwanians believe.

Out at the Marvin-Falls cottage along the Neshamock creek they got it last night, too, but the corn roast they had postponed because of an earlier cloudburst wasn't postponed this time. With gay spirits 55 Kiwanians, their wives and guests forgot the dampness and had rollicking good time.

Roosevelt Wants Pennsylvania To Share Relief Burden; Asks Speedy Action

SPECIAL SESSION CALL MAY COME

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Roosevelt wants the state of Pennsylvania to bear its share of the relief burden within its boundaries, even if a special session of the state legislature has to be called to do it.

The executive plans to call on Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania for speedy action. There has been discussion of an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of legislation for relief for some time, but the question has not yet been settled.

If the state cannot carry its part of the load, with funds already available, the president will ask Pinchot to call a special session of the state legislative body.

Pinchot is taking his "annual rest cure" in a New York sanitarium and probably will call upon the president at Mr. Roosevelt's summer White House.

Today, more than ever, Smith's believe you get what you pay for . . . especially in dry cleaning.

If you appreciate Quality and Value, Smith's will be pleased to have you give their Fine Quality Cleaning Service a trial.

SOMEBODY BLUNDERED

THAT old axiom about locking the stable after the horse is gone still holds good. In spite of it The News cannot help but wonder why the Butler mail truck which was robbed on Friday, did not have one or more armed guards riding it from Butler to Lyndora.

Asking one man to drive a truck and guard $66,000 in cash at the same time is asking too much. True an armed guard would have cost a little money but $66,000 would buy a lot of them.

With no thought of being critical it occurs to us that every mail truck carrying money of any considerable amount should be guarded. In these days of gangsters, machine guns and fast automobiles an unguarded truck is an invitation to holdups and in the Butler case the gangsters accepted the invitation.

No one can criticize the driver of the truck for turning over his keys to the bandits. Faced with several guns he did the human thing and saved his own life. There is some very sharp criticism due the authorities for their gross negligence in failing to safeguard the transportation of a fortune in cash. Somebody blundered.

A FREE PRESS

In an address prepared for the radio United States Senator Schall of Minnesota makes the statement that "the brain trust is formulating a proposal for a government press service similar to those operating in Russia, France and Italy."

Had the statement been made by certain members of the United States Senate it might not carry the weight, but coming from a statesman of the calibre of Senator Schall it deserves serious consideration and proper publicity.

Senator Schall is not a sensationalist and we are prone to believe that his statement is not one of the imagination. He continues in his statement to say that a press censorship bill will be offered to the next congress. The government press service would supplant the existing privately supported news services and to quote Senator Schall again, "would be in a position to give its service only to those newspapers loyal to the Roosevelt administration."

Such a proposal is ridiculous but no more so than some proposals that have already become established as a part of our governmental experimentation. Remembering the skillful publicity work of Charley Michelson, master publicist, who conducted a four year campaign of merciless publicity unfavorable to President Hoover, we wonder if the thought back of the idea is that such a campaign might be repeated against other administrations. A government press muzzle would obviate that.

It may be that the Brain Trust has not yet got around to Amendment One of the United States Constitution which guarantees a free press. Or it may be that the mortal boardered master minds believe that the constitution can again be thwarted.

Whatever the reason back of it the people of the United States will never stand for such tyranny we hope. The general election is not far away and every man or woman who is a candidate for election to the United States Congress, regardless of party, should be placed upon record as to his feeling in the matter.

A SOUTHERN PUTSCH

The course of Huey Long's political aggrandizement in Louisiana has ceased to be a legislative program, and takes on the appearance of a coup d'état. His legislative program, now enacted, has definitely taken the situation out of the realm of ordinary boss-ridden politics, and placed it in the category of military seizure of constitutional power.

An amazing predicament confronts the people of Louisiana as the provisions of his measures become law. Those measures permit the governor to head a secret police force of unlimited numbers; command the national guard for any purpose, including the seizure of local governments; and permit him to employ unlimited numbers of special deputies at $5 a day to police elections. With such military power, Long and his controlled governor could easily control elections, and complete and perpetual command of the state and its courts would be only a matter of a short time.

Long's curious and uncanny hold on the outstate sentiment in Louisiana becomes clear only to those who have studied the history of demagogue control in the South and Southwest. Thus far, he has had only to inflame the moral prejudices of the rural voters against the sophisticated social conditions of New Orleans; and to heightened the natural resentment of the numerous poor and ignorant against the few well-to-do and literate, easy matters for a politician so smart and unscrupulous.

The situation now lacks only bloodshed to measure up favorably with the latest improved type of German putsch.

PIECE OF CARBON PAPER

A piece of carbon paper. Light blue on one side. Dark blue on the other. You hold it carefully between your fingers and it smudges a little. You place it between two clean sheets of white paper and slip it into your typewriter and punch the keys. And as you write you make a copy of everything you set down before you. The marks go through the first sheet, through the carbon, onto that sheet that's underneath. You are making a carbon copy of everything you write, a copy of any truth you may be setting down, a copy of all your foolishness, your inaccuracies, your wisdom, your vanity, your arrogance, your humility, everything. If you make a mistake and x-x-x-x it, those x's show on the carbon, too. If you write nice, clean copy, that shows, too.

And sometimes it seems that a man has something like a sheet of carbon in himself, located somewhere between that tough outer skin of him and that inner all-remembering part of himself. It's there and he cannot rid himself of it. Everything he thinks, says, does, goes down on that carbon. The outer writing may fade, grow dim, but the inner writing, unseen and sometimes forgotten, remains as clear, as distinct, as ever.

And because of that carbon, whatever we do is important to our future happiness or pain. If an appeal is made to our generosity or our decency and we reject that appeal roughly, we do not wipe it so easily out of consciousness. Years later it comes back to us at odd, unexpected moments, to repreach us. If we are cowardly when we should be bold, if we are callous when we should be tender, some time, some day, we find the record written indelebly on that inner self.

And if we have our moments of honesty, bravery, decency, kindness and understanding, those, too, are written on our deeper self, for our strength and for our comfort. Unforgettably, sharply, blessedly.

I cannot prove that these things are so. No man can prove them. But every man in his heart knows that he writes his daily life on a self that he cannot forget and that this is his permanent record of what he most truly is.

CARPING CRITICISM ALIENATES YOUR FRIENDS

Do you pull for your party or your neighborhood, or against it?

Do you co-operate when improvements are suggested, or do you stand on the sidelines and snap at the heels of those who are trying to accomplish something?

Perhaps you did not start the innovation.

Some persons are so constituted that if they do not have a finger in the pie in its making, they just can't think it is any good.

How would you feel if you had put infinite amount of study and consideration to a problem, and had some people nagging at your heels with criticism?

You would not like it and you know it would hamper your efforts.

You've got to be pretty big in character and far sighted in mind, to carry on entirely oblivious to the obstacles strewn in your path.

Knowing how you would feel yourself, can't you have a little mercy and sympathy for those who have a job to do and are earnestly working at it?

You certainly are not creating approval for yourself while you are yapping and nipping at the heels of the one who is temporary leader.

Especially if the job is one of universal interest, your biting remarks serve to alienate even your own friends.

Truck Robberies Increasing Some Travel In Convoys Now Torture Abroad—And Here

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The robbery of an armored truck in New York, with $427,000, is sensational, of course.

Readers may be surprised to learn, however, that loss from truck robberies reaches a nation-wide total of six figures every month. The other robberies are of silk trucks, of cigaret trucks, of liquor trucks.

Silk trucks in the east now travel in convoys of three, with an armed guard sitting atop one truck, his gun always in hand.

Banditry often leads far beyond men, finding it easy to be daredevil criminals, assume greater and greater risks, until the state begins to quiver under their heel.

Live in a large city and you soon will know why "big time" crime flourishes.

The false constantly is played up.

Life is unnatural, from the day a child is born in the ill-ventilated houses until with a spurious bravado he goes out upon the streets to try to live "up" to the vulgarity of the gutter (or the tinsel of a White Way).

The sidewalks of New York (or Chicago) are nothing of which to sing.

And the responsibility probably lies with all of us (social reformers say)—for permitting a housing system and a degenerating life that breeds the monsters who may destroy us.

CAN THERE BE CHANGES?

Betterments for the human race are the most bitterly contested, perhaps because somebody always is earning profits from the old system.

A leading New York physician called on the writer today. For 20 years he has been in the forefront of fight against drugs.

In the early days of the fight (not so long ago) every conceivable subterfuge was resorted to in order to stave off laws for drug cures.

One man described the effects of drugs so graphically that the American Medical Association embodied his words—strong, clean words—in its annual report. That man was Eugene Debs, writing from the federal prison whither he had been sent for opposing entry of the United States into the World War.

A physician rose on the convention floor. He objected to anything from Eugene Debs, "a Socialist, in prison."

The physician created such an opposition that the Eugene Debs description was eliminated from the report.

SOMEBODY BLUNDERED

THAT old axiom about locking the stable after the horse is gone still holds good. In spite of it The News cannot help but wonder why the Butler mail truck which was robbed on Friday, did not have one or more armed guards riding it from Butler to Lyndora.

Asking one man to drive a truck and guard $66,000 in cash at the same time is asking too much. True an armed guard would have cost a little money but $66,000 would buy a lot of them.

With no thought of being critical it occurs to us that every mail truck carrying money of any considerable amount should be guarded. In these days of gangsters, machine guns and fast automobiles an unguarded truck is an invitation to holdups and in the Butler case the gangsters accepted the invitation.

No one can criticise the driver of the truck for turning over his keys to the bandits. Faced with several guns he did the human thing and saved his own life. There is some very sharp criticism due the authorities for their gross negligence in failing to safeguard the transportation of a fortune in cash. Somebody blundered.

A FREE PRESS

In an address prepared for the radio United States Senator Schall of Minnesota makes the statement that "the brain trust is formulating a proposal for a government press service similar to those operating in Russia, France and Italy."

Had the statement been made by certain members of the United States Senate it might not carry the weight, but coming from a statesman of the calibre of Senator Schall it deserves serious consideration and proper publicity.

Senator Schall is not a sensationalist and we are prone to believe that his statement is not one of the imagination. He continues in his statement to say that a press censorship bill will be offered to the next congress. The government press service would supplant the existing privately supported news services and to quote Senator Schall again, "would be in a position to give its service only to those newspapers loyal to the Roosevelt administration."

Such a proposal is ridiculous but no more so than some proposals that have already become established as a part of our governmental experimentation. Remembering the skillful publicity work of Charley Michelson, master publicist, who conducted a four year campaign of merciless publicity unfavorable to President Hoover, we wonder if the thought back of the idea is that such a campaign might be repeated against other administrations. A government press muzzle would oblige that.

It may be that the Brain Trust has not yet got around to Amendment One of the United States Constitution which guarantees a free press. Or it may be that the mortal boared master minds believe that the constitution can again be thwarted.

Whatever the reason back of it the people of the United States will never stand for such tyranny we hope. The general election is not far away and every man or woman who is a candidate for election to the United States Congress, regardless of party, should be placed upon record as to his feeling in the matter.

A SOUTHERN PUTSCH

The course of Huey Long's political aggrandizement in Louisiana has ceased to be a legislative program, and takes on the appearance of a coup d'état. His legislative program, now enacted, has definitely taken the situation out of the realm of ordinary boss-ruled politics, and placed it in the category of military seizure of constitutional power.

An amazing predicament confronts the people of Louisiana as the provisions of his measures become law. These measures permit the governor to head a secret police force of unlimited numbers; command the national guard for any purpose, including the seizure of local governments; and permit him to employ unlimited numbers of special deputies at $5 a day to police elections. With such military power, Long and his controlled governor could easily control elections, and complete and perpetual command of the state and its courts would be only a matter of a short time.

Long's curious and uncanny hold on the outstate sentiment in Louisiana becomes clear only to those who have studied the history of demagogue control in the South and Southwest. Thus far, he has had only to inflame the moral prejudices of the rural voters against the sophisticated social conditions of New Orleans; and to heighten the natural resentment of the numerous poor and ignorant against the few well-to-do and literate, easy matters for a politician so smart and unscrupulous.

PIECE OF CARBON PAPER

A piece of carbon paper. Light blue on one side. Dark blue on the other. You hold it carefully between your fingers and it smudges a little. You place it between two clean sheets of white paper and slip it into your typewriter and punch the keys. . . . And as you write you make a copy of everything you set down before you. The marks go through the first sheet, through the carbon, onto that sheet that's underneath. . . . You are making a carbon copy of everything you write. . . . a copy of any truth you may be setting down, a copy of all your foolishness, your inaccuracies, your wisdom, your vanity, your arrogance, your humility, everything. If you make a mistake and x-x-x-x-x it, those's show on the carbon, too. If you write nice, clean copy that shows, too.

And sometimes it seems that a man has something like a sheet of carbon in himself, located somewhere between that tough outer skin of him and that inner all-remembering part of himself. It's there and he cannot rid himself of it. . . . Everything he thinks, says, does, goes down on that carbon. The outer writing may fade, grow dim, but the inner writing, unseen and sometimes forgotten, remains as clear, as distinct, as ever.

And because of that carbon, whatever we do is important to our future happiness or pain. . . . If an appeal is made to our generosity or our decency, and we reject that appeal roughly, we do not wipe it so easily out of consciousness. Years later it comes back to us at odd, unexpected moments, to reproach us.

If we are cowardly when we should be bold, if we are callous when we should be tender, some day, we find the record written indecisively on that inner self. . . . And if we have our moments of honesty, bravery, kindness and understanding, those, too, are written on our deeper self, for our strength and for our comfort. . . . Unforgettably, sharply, blessedly.

I cannot prove that these things are so. No man can prove them. But every man in his heart knows that he writes his daily life on a self that he cannot forget and that this is his permanent record of what he most truly is.

Park Services To Close Sunday

Evening Community Services Through Summer Months

Have Been Of Interest

The community church services, which have featured Sunday evenings, will come to a close Sunday evening with the service beginning at 8:45.

The various ministers of the city have been in charge throughout the summer and a fitting close to the services will be the sermon of the president of the New Castle Ministerial Association, the Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, who has chosen this theme, "The World and Its Supreme Need."

The community singing will be led by Mrs. June Bernard well known as director of the choir, whose broad experience in conducting church choirs will enable her to make the musical part of the program of much interest. In addition to the singing there will be numbers by the brass quintet, which has taken part in this journey; I require you bring me forward, that I may strike one stroke with my sword."

The king his father was so far forward that he strike a stroke with his sword, yea and more than four, and fought gallantly and so did his company, and they adventured themselves so far forward that they were there all slain, and the next day they were found in the place about the king, and all their horses tied to each other."

"The works of the supreme chronicler of the later age of chivalry may still be read with pleasure; standard editions of Froissart may be found at most libraries."

"As was the case with many inventions, his machine was ahead of its time. Typewriters were not accepted by the public as useful devices until Christopher Latham Sholes began building them 25 years later.

Aug. 26, 1920.—More than 50 years after Wyoming and Colorado recognized women as responsible citizens, the federal union followed suit. The 19th amendment was proclaimed in effect by Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby.

(Five days later the Tennessee house of representatives rescinded its ratification!)

Payment of mercantile taxes at the county treasurer's office has formed a large part of the business during the past two weeks. All payments are supposed to be in by September 1st, but there are still about 700 out of the 2100 who have not yet paid.

P. W. Fairbairn has filed a suit against the Beaver Enameling Company, of Ellwood City to collect commissions amounting to $1500 which he claims are due him. The claim is based on orders received from the Sherwin-Williams Paint company for enamel signs. Fairbairn claims that it was through him that the business, amounting to about $30,000 was secured by the Beaver Enameling Company. He was to receive a commission of five per cent.

County Health Officer George Montgomery is wondering what he can do to prevent the corn on his Plain Grove township farm from growing any taller. He has a field that is now anywhere from 12 to 15 feet high, and still growing. George don't mind using a step-ladder to reach the ears, but he's afraid it's going to be a big job if he has to husk it from an extension ladder. Of course he might chop it down, but there's always the danger of a stalk falling on him.

County Treasurer Wm. O. Pitts has received a letter from H. D. Mullen of the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue stating that the 1934 hunter's license tags will be shipped here from the Western penitentiary about August 27th.

The letter contains considerable information of interest to hunters. Among other things it says: "We have been receiving complaints from different parts of the state, reporting that people are getting licenses, who are not entitled to them. This we feel is due to lack of enforcing Act No. 258. This act revises section 302 of the Game Laws and provides Griffith Thomas, of Park avenue, will fill the pulpit of the Emanuel Baptist church on Sunday evening, August 26.

A beautiful service was held at the Emmanuel church last Wednesday evening. Scripture lesson was read by Miss Ann Mae Jones and the following people led in prayer: William Phillips, Mrs. T. L. Jones, Mrs. Mary Jones and Thos. L. Jones. The meeting was dismissed by Deacon Benjamin Jones.

Among those who will attend the singing festival at Cleveland will be Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bevan, of Mahoningtown.

Rev. and Mrs. Rees T. Williams, of the First Congregational church, will be back from their vacation at Bangor in a week or two.

Comedy Convulses Crowd Last Night

"Her Step-Husband," Presented By Emergency Relief Players, Is Success

"Her Step-Husband" was the cause of laugh after laugh reverberating through the George Washington Junior high school auditorium Friday evening and the play presented by the Emergency Educational Relief Dramatic club was a success such as New Castle has not had in amateur circles in many a moon.

Due to the splendid performances of the cast the comedy reached the heights of hilarity and furnished most amusing amusement for the crowd of some 300 people. It was presented in a surprisingly smooth and understanding manner suggestive of professional talent. It marked a fitting star presentation and climax to a season of drama study by the North street night school players.

The man's legs had been hacked from his body.

An Italian caretaker found the trunk when he arrived for work this morning. A pool of blood had seeped from the trunk and congealed in a corner of the basement.

The caretaker said the trunk had not been there last night.

Police began an immediate examination of the trunk and of the body seeking identification of the victim as their first step in solving the mystery.

Louis Tavoni, 52, Receives Several Cuts In Beer Parlor Scrape Friday

POLICE SEEK OTHER MAN IN MIXUP

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—Louis Tavoni, aged 52, of 14th street is in the Ellwood City hospital with several knife wounds as a result of a scrape with a friend in a beer parlor last night. The wounds are reported to be not serious.

Local police are seeking Vincent Marone of 13th street, this city, as the man who wielded the knife. Marone fled immediately after the fight and has not been located as yet.

The police believe that the argument, which took on more serious aspects, started as a result of a gambling game with cards. Tavoni was rushed to the local hospital after the fight. There were two deep gashes, one of them was rather serious. There were other minor cuts. He is expected to be discharged from the hospital sometime today.

The affair occurred in a beer parlor in the West End.

The man's legs had been hacked from his body.

An Italian caretaker found the trunk when he arrived for work this morning. A pool of blood had seeped from the trunk and congealed in a corner of the basement.

The caretakers said the trunk had not been there last night.

Police began an immediate examination of the trunk and of the body seeking identification of the victim as their first step in solving the mystery.

Mexican Radio Stars Conclude Hunger Strike

One Of Weirdest Demonstrations In History Of Labor Ends In Mexico City

(International News Service) MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—One of the weirdest demonstrations in the history of labor disputes ended early today when employees of Radio Station XEAL, who staged a three-day hunger strike, called it off on payment of three months back salaries.

During the eighty hours that the strike lasted, the performers broadcast constantly, the operators of the station displaying an unexplained leniency by failing to resort to the simple expedient of shutting off the power.

The demonstration came to an end when Manuel Jaso, manager of the station, delivered to Juan De Dios Bojorquez, chief of the labor department 13,000 pesos in payment of back wages.

Strike Called Off

Bojorquez immediately notified the performers at Mixcoac, where the station is located, and the strike was called off. The end came soon after midnight, while the singers and musicians, still carrying on with extraordinary resistance, were still going strong.

The artists immediately headed for a restaurant, partaking of their first food in 80 hours. Yesterday, three of the singers fainted at the microphone from sheer exhaustion, but were quickly replaced by substitutes.

Action Pending On Relief Office Move

Declare No Decision As Yet; Want More Space For Larger Staffs

A contemplated change in the headquarters of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief office and the RWD, now located in the old Jefferson hotel on South Jefferson street, had not materialized today and Executive Director E. H. Robinson declared that no definite action had been taken on it.

To date, the committee has received an unusual number of entries. The outdoor feast is being sponsored by a group of Italian residents of the South Side. The Rev. ## Stars Conclude Hunger Strike

One Of Weirdest Demonstrations In History Of Labor Ends In Mexico City

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—One of the weirdest demonstrations in the history of labor disputes ended early today when employees of Radio Station XEAL, who staged a three-day hunger strike, called it off a moment of three months back salary.

During the eight hours that the strike lasted, the performers broadcast constantly the operators of the station displaying an unexplained leniency by failing to resort to the simple expedient of shutting off the power.

The demonstration came to an end when Manuel Jaso, manager of the station, delivered to Juan De Diaz Bojorquez, chief of the labor department 13,000 pesos in payment of back wages.

Strike Called Off

Bojorquez immediately notified the performers at Mixcoac, where the station is located, and the strike was called off. The end came soon after midnight, while the singers and musicians, still carrying on with extraordinary resistance, were still going strong.

The artists immediately headed for a restaurant, partaking of their first food in 80 hours. Yesterday, three of the singers fainted at the microphone from sheer exhaustion, but were quickly replaced by substitutes.

MUCH EXCITEMENT, in Paris especially about the sudden drop in British sterling as compared with French francs. The French believe that the British no longer mean to hold up the value of the pound, and fear that Britain and the United States will begin "a cheap money" competition, disastrous to those that remain proudly on the gold standard.

If United States and British monies are cheap the world will run from Britain and the United States, rather than from countries with dear money.

This is further confirmation of the statement that nobody knows anything about money. The world can only guess, as events develop.

MR. AL CAPONE, able in his line, is indignant, his lawyers almost weep because Mr. Capone, in the dead of night, is transferred from the peaceful prison of Atlanta, Georgia, to the rock prison of Alcatraz Island, where the government keeps its "most desperate prisoners".

Mr. Capone, who says he has been a model prisoner as all his guards will testify, may be comforted by the suggestion that our government sees in him some resemblance to Napoleon Bonaparte. Napoleon was a model prisoner on the Island of Elba, but did not stay there long, and when he came back, made considerable trouble.

The British transferred him to St. Helena, a rocky, distant island, like Alcatraz, only more so. And there Napoleon stayed till he died, his corpse coming back in triumph, to be buried in Paris.

AT BRIDGETON, N. J., scene of unpleasant strikes, "Communist activities" are investigated, Donald J. Henderson, formerly instructor at Columbia University, and his wife being witnesses.

When they admitted that they were Communists the investigating lawyer asked each one, "Do you believe in God?" Mrs. Henderson said she did not believe in a "personal" God. Her husband said:

"I do not believe in the God you do—but, I believe in God."

Defenders of property rights maintain that to believe in God is essential to good citizenship, but strangely, it doesn't matter what particular God.

IF MRS. HENDERSON said, "We believe in an African God called Mumbo-Jumbo," or "We believe in Buddha," or "Allah, and his prophet, Mohammed," or "We believe in being parsee," that would have been satisfactory.

And that is reasonable, easily understood, on the theory that if you believe in Mumbo-Jumbo or any other God, you probably believe also that you will go to hell if you take somebody else's property. If you don't believe in Mumbo-Jumbo, or Allah or Buddha, or some supernatural power, you may conclude that there is no hell, in which case, as a matter of course, you would steal everything possible or even divide the property of the rich among the poor.

YOUNG LADIES of Hungary, as all can testify who have sailed down the Danube and visited Budapest, are beautiful, and temperamental. So temperamental, in fact, as to make Lupe Velez, Dolores Del Rio and 100 female American Hollywood temperaments rolled into one seem mild and cold.

Imagine this. Girls from twelve to eighteen years of age at Rakospalota forbidden to leave school to see their soldier-sweethearts suddenly developed "mass hysteria" and expressed their disappointment by swallowing objects of all sorts, teaspoons, toothbrushes, everything they could force down their throats. Some are dying.

The most excitable man is mild compared to a baffled young lady with her affections involved. Mass hysteria among females is a very ancient phenomenon, hard to handle. A mild case once developed in a New York lying-in hospital when experiments were made with "twilight sleep".

MR. BERNARD S. DEUTSCH, president of New York's board of almoners, visiting Mexico, learned, like the man, his son, and the donkey in the old fable, that it is hard to please everybody.

Mr. Deutsch in Mexico City praised everything. Mexico was a wonderful country, and he was glad to say on the authority of high officials that the anti-Jewish movement in Mexico amounted to nothing.

Imagine his surprise when a committee of "gold shirts", a Mexican anti-Semitic organization, called and ordered him to retract his statement, because he "had violated the Mexican constitution and given offense to the hospitality of the nation."

IMAGINE MR. DEUTSCH'S further surprise when he "was sharply censored by Catholics because of a talk he made praising Mexico."

"The Catholics contended that Mr. Deutsch should not have commended a country that had placed sharp restrictions on religion."

Mr. Deutsch, now on his way home, can sympathize with the parrot left alone with the bulldog while the family went to church. The parrot, found with its stuffed feathers off, repeated frequently:

"I know what's the matter with me. I talk too much."

THE RUSSIAN NEWSPAPER Izvestia warns Japan not to get into a "conflagration" for the sake of a small sum connected with Japan's proposed purchase of the Chinese Eastern Railway, owned by Russia. It is good advice.

But there are possibilities of "conflagration" along the Russian-Japanese border more serious than any bargaining for a railroad.

It is doubtful whether Russia and Japan will live long side by side peacefully until it shall have been proved which is the stronger nation. In our civilization only war provides proof.

Constant irritation in the human body produces cancer. Constant irritation in international dealings produces war.

MR. GENE TUNNEY, who fought for his country and a dollar a day in France, fought for prize-fight "fans" in the United States, retired as champion of the world wisely, because he made two million dollars, thought that was enough, and, besides there was nobody in sight worth fighting.

Now, Mr. Tunney is offered another fighting job by Gen. Johnson in the national recovery administration. Mr. Tunney should be useful in Gen. Johnson's "cracking down" department.

Victors Play Sunday Game With Polish; Unions-Scarazzos To Play Softball

SOFTBALL GAME STARTS AT 2 P. M.

A big double attraction has been carded for the sport lovers of New Castle Sunday afternoon at Centennial field, with a championship softball game and baseball game on the program.

At 2 o'clock the Unions and Scarazzos will play the second game of their championship American league series. Al Ritchie will oppose Bartlett on the mound. The Scarazzos won the first game played early in the week.

The Victors will tangle with the Polish Nationals in the second game on the bill. Altogether it will afford the fans something new, as they can witness a softball game and baseball game. There is no admission charged. A collection will be taken up.

Softball Game Carded.

President Charles "Bugs" Walther of the Lawrence County Softball association got in touch with Frank Christofer today and made arrangements for the softball game. The softball officials had complete cooperation from the baseball team in regard to the proposed twin bill.

The Victors will be out for their second victory since organizing in New Castle. Last week the Victors took the measure of the Mahoning A. A. 4 to 0 with Houston hurling a no-run no-hit game.

With good weather tomorrow afternoon a banner crowd is looked for at Centennial field. Fred Shaffer, formerly of the Middle Atlantic league, will oppose the Victors. Either Paul McCullough or Houston will pitch for the Victors. Scaglione will be behind the plate for the Victors.

Victors Are Fast.

Kusma, a promising second sacker, will be with the Victors. He is being trailed by a Cleveland scout. The Victors have a galaxy of stars in their lineup. Sam McCullough is going great for the Victors and so is Cleary. Antonucci in the outfield is the fastest man in semi-pro baseball. The Victors also have several other stars. Antonucci is a great hitter.

The Victors are still trying to schedule the Ellwood City Shelleys for game. The business manager of the Ellwood team is asked to call Frank Christofer, business manager of the Victors, at New Castle 666.

Clifton Flats To Battle All-Stars

Clifton Flats baseball team will play a picked team of All-Stars from the Lawrence County league and the independent league at the Clifton Flats field Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A good game is anticipated. The Clifton Flats-Ryan town series will start Monday night at Flats field.

By BILL WEART
International News Service Sports Writer.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—With two peerless tandem teams at grips, one of the bitterest fights in years on a tennis court is anticipated for this afternoon's championship match of the 53rd annual United States doubles tournament.

Favored with ideal weather, a clear sky and brilliant sun, the championship battle on the Manheim courts at the Germantown Cricket Club was expected to draw a capacity gallery of 4,000 enthusiasts of the game.

The Lott and Stoefen

On one side: the defending champions, George Lott of Chicago and Lester Stoefen of Los Angeles, the tournament's top-seeded players, and winners of the 1934 Davis cup doubles.

On the other side: Ex-United States Doubles Champions Wilmer Allison, Austin, Tex., and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, and former up-and-comers of American prestige in the Davis cup doubles division.

Lott is in pursuit of his fifth national crown, having been victorious in 1928 with John Hennessey and the two following years with John H. Doe. Last year Lott teamed with Stoefen to regain the crown. Allison and Van Ryn, two runners-up for the crown and once the wearers of it, are out to recapture the coveted throne.

The Lott-Stoefen duo enjoyed a day of rest yesterday, having gained a berth in the finals on Thursday by eliminating the formidable team of Berkley Bell and Gregory Martin.

Elders To Play Columbia Stars

Eddie "Schoolboy" Lannin and his Elder A. C. aggregation are set for one of the most important tussles of the season scheduled for next Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock against the Columbia All Stars.

The Elders to date have defeated some of the leading sandlot combinations in the city. The Columbia stars will be composed of some of the fastest players of "yester year" in the persons of Anthony "Patty" Perucci, Amos "Tubby" Augustine, Jimmy Copley and Clarence Klaber, ex-New Castle high and Duquesne grid star. The game is anticipated to be replete with action.

Ryantown Will Battle Elders

Ryantown will play the Elder A. C. at Ryantown field Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The two teams are rivals and a fast game is looked for.

The Elders took the measure of the Ryantowners recently and the West Side boys hope to even up the count.

Eddie "Schoolboy" Lannin will take the hill for the Elders and will be opposed by either Hill or Book for the Ryantowns.

Sunday's Game At Bessemer To Decide Lawrence County Loop Title

MANAGERS FAIL TO NAME HURLERS

Fifth and final game of the series for the championship of the Lawrence County Baseball league will be played by Bessemer and West Pittsburgh at Bessemer tomorrow. The game will start at 2:30 p. m. E. S. T. Each team has won two games. Neither manager has picked his pitcher.

Due to the bang-up baseball the teams have been playing it would not be surprising were several thousand fans to witness the game. The teams are evenly matched as the close games of the series have shown.

In the four games played Bessemer has made 26 hits and West Pittsburgh 25. West Pittsburgh has scored 13 runs and Bessemer has scored 11.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—He may be as his teammates insist—a chump in the clubhouse—but this Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals—but, if you'll accept the verdict of the Giants, he's a chump on the field.

The Giants have beaten the younger Dean only once in five starts but they haven't taken a single decision over the elder Dean whose record is against them now reads: Won five, lost none.

The writer cannot agree with those who are forever taking a crack at Dizzy. He's a great pitcher. He's willing to pitch at any and all times. And his antics certainly add something to the gaiety of nations.

Wins 22 Games.

Moreover, were it not for Dizzy and his 22 victories it would be hard to imagine what the Cards be? Certainly not in second place as they are today. And the Giants would be so far in front there would be no interest in the race.

Dizzy turned in his fifth win against the Giants yesterday when he shut them out, 5 to 0, with five hits while his batters were getting to Bowman and Smith for eight, two of which were homers by Rothrock and Collins.

The Cards, facing a great chance to gain while the Cards and Giants are knocking each other around, staged their annual blow-up. They dropped their second straight to the Dodgers, 6 to 4, and fell back into the third slot.

In the feature match, Ruben Sigler proved too much for Harry Rigby by 6-4. Joseph Wolfe fought his way to a convincing 6-3 triumph over Art Hennion. Al Fligly and "Bear" Babin also played good tennis. On account of lack of time, the matches were limited to one set.

Complete Scores

R. Sigler defeated Harry Rigby 6-4.

B. Babin defeated Phillips Hetzel 9-7.

Al Fligly defeated Harvey Hetzel 6-3.

Joseph Wolfe defeated Art Hennion 6-3.

L. Anderson and H. Hetzel defeated R. Sigler and Lewis 6-4.

Al Fligly and J. Wolfe defeated Hennion and Rigby 6-3.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR JOE MANAGERS

Most of the major league managers can go hunting, ice skating, or even get married this winter without having their 1935 jobs to worry about. At this time, it appears that there will be less pilot switching than there has been for a great many years.

You can't put your finger on any American league post that is definitely set for a change. Nothing short of a revolution could oust Mickey Cochrane from Detroit. Connie Mack has his Philadelphia managership for as long as he wants it. And Walter Johnson has already signed his 1935 Cleveland contract.

In New York lies the one big threat to all managers. Until Babe Ruth gets located for next year, there are very few managers who can feel 100 per cent secure. However, Ruth can manage only one of the 16 clubs, though nobody seems to have definitely decided which one that will be. So there will probably be at least one shift to settle down that there has been for a great many years.

But now he's back with a hopeful air and his other shirt and he's beginning to find that 25 per cent of very little is not very much. That's Willard's price now, 25 per cent. He's using the Dempsey gag, the personal appearance thing, getting 25 per cent of the gate where Dempsey took 50. But Dempsey himself, can't work the Dempsey gag any more. Even a man's relatives won't pay money to watch him amass 17 hits.

Max Addapple Baer, for instance, tried it down in the south recently, working on a percentage with the principals in a wrestling match. I don't know what the principals did about it but Baer took 50 per cent, or, in American money, $150. Not so long before he boxed a four round exhibition in a Texas city for a guarantee of $5,000. But the enterprise only did $3,000.

Lott and Stoefen

about that is all. The fans have been rooting Joe recently but Ruppert probably realizes the ability of McCarthy. There are very few managers capable of handling such an array of temperamental stars as always graces the Yankee roster. But Mr. McCarthy has proved he is capable of the task.

Down Goes The Pound.
Comfort For Mr. Capone.
Belief In God Protects.
When Girls Are Baffled.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MUCH EXCITEMENT, in Paris, especially about the sudden drop in British sterling as compared with French francs. The French believe that the British no longer mean to hold up the value of the pound, and fear that Britain and the United States will begin "a cheap money" competition, disastrous to those that remain proudly on the gold standard.

If United States and British money are cheap the world will buy from Britain and the United States, rather than from countries with dear money.

This is further confirmation of the statement that nobody knows anything about money. The world can only guess as events develop.

MR. AL CAPONE, able in his line, is indignant, his lawyers almost weep because Mr. Capone, in the dead of night, is transferred from the peaceful prison of Atlanta, Georgia, to the rock prison of Alcatraz Island, where the government keeps its "most desperate prisoners".

Mr. Capone, who says he has been a model prisoner, as all his guards will testify, may be comforted by the suggestion that our government sees in him some resemblance to Napoleon Bonaparte. Napoleon was a model prisoner on the Island of Elba, but did not stay there long, and when he came back, made considerable trouble.

The British transferred him to St. Helena, a rocky, distant island, like Alcatraz, only more so. And there Napoleon stayed till he died, his corpse coming back in triumph, to be buried in Paris.

AT BRIDGETON, N. J., scene of unpleasant strikes, "Communist activists" are investigated. Donald J. Henderson, formerly instructor at Columbia University, and his wife being witnesses.

When they admitted that they were Communists the investigating lawyer asked each one, "Do you believe in God?" Mrs. Henderson said she did not believe in a "personal God". Her husband said:

"I do not believe in the God you do—but, I believe in God."

Defenders of property rights maintain that to believe in God is essential to good citizenship, but strangely it doesn't matter what particular God.

IF MRS. HENDERSON said, "We believe in an African God called Mumbo-Jumbo", or "We believe in Buddha", or "Allah, and his prophet, Mohammed", or "We believe in being persons," that would have been satisfactory.

And that is reasonable, easily understood, on the theory that if you believe in Mumbo-Jumbo, or any other God, you probably believe also that you will go to hell if you take somebody else's property. If you don't believe in Mumbo-Jumbo, or Allah or Buddha, or some supernatural power, you may conclude that there is no hell, in which case, as a matter of course, you would steal everything possible or even divide the property of the rich among the poor.

YOUNG LADIES of Hungary, as all can testify who have sailed down the Danube and visited Budapest, are beautiful and temperamental. So temperamental, in fact, as to make Lupa Velez, Dolores Del Rio and 100 female American Hollywood temperaments rolled into one seem mild and cold.

Imagine this. Girls from twelve to eighteen years of age at Rakospalota forbidden to leave school to see their soldier-sweethearts suddenly developed "mass hysteria" and expressed their disappointment by swallowing objects of all sorts, tea-spoons, toothbrushes, everything they could force down their throats. Some are dying.

The most excitable man is mild compared to a baffled young lady with her affections involved. Mass hysteria among females is a very ancient phenomenon, hard to handle. A mild case once developed in a New York lying-in hospital when experiments were made with "twilight sleep".

MR. BERNARD S. DEUTSCH, president of New York's board of aldermen, visiting Mexico, learned like the man, his son, and the donkey in the old fable, that it is hard to please everybody.

Mr. Deutsch in Mexico City praised everything. Mexico was a wonderful country, and he was glad to say on the authority of high officials that the anti-Jewish movement in Mexico amounted to nothing.

Imagine his surprise when a committee of "gold shirts", a Mexican anti-Semitic organization, called and ordered him to retract his statement, because he "had violated the Mexican constitution and given offense to the hospitality of the nation."

IMAGINE MR. DEUTSCH'S further surprise when he "was sharply censored by Catholics because of a talk he made praising Mexico."

The Catholics contended that Mr. Deutsch should not have commended a country that had placed sharp restrictions on religion.

Mr. Deutsch, now on his way home, can sympathize with the parrot left alone with the bulldog while the family went to church. The parrot, found with its stuffed feathers off, repeated frequently:

"I know what's the matter with me. I talk too much."

THE RUSSIAN NEWSPAPER Izvestia warns Japan not to get into a "conflagration" for the sake of a small sum connected with Japan's proposed purchase of the Chinese Eastern Railway, owned by Russia. It is good advice.

But there are possibilities of "conflagration" along the Russian-Japanese border more serious than any bargaining for a railroad.

It is doubtful whether Russia and Japan will live long side by side peacefully until it shall have been proved which is the stronger nation. In our civilization only war provides proof.

Constant irritation in the human body produces cancer. Constant irritation in international dealings produces war.

MR. GENE TUNNEY, who fought for his country and a dollar a day in France, fought for prize-fight fans in the United States, retired as champion of the world wisely, because he made two million dollars, thought that was enough, and, besides there was nobody in sight worth fighting.

Now, Mr. Tunney is offered another fighting job by Gen. Johnson in the national recovery administration. Mr. Tunney should be useful in Gen. Johnson's "cracking down" department.

Victors To Play Polish Nationals; Twin Bill Carded

Victors Play Sunday Game With Polish Unions. Scarazzos To Play Softball

SOFTBALL GAME STARTS AT 2 P. M.

A big double attraction has been carded for the sport lovers of New Castle Saturday afternoon at Centennial field, with a championship softball game and baseball game on the program.

At 2 o'clock the Unions and Scarazzos will play the second game of their championship American league series. Al Ritchie will oppose Bartlett on the mound. The Scarazzos won the first game played early in the week.

The Victors will tangle with the Polish Nationals in the second game on the bill. Altogether it will afford the fans something new, as they can witness a softball game and baseball game. There is no admission charged. A collection will be taken up.

Softball Game Carded.

President Charles "Bugs" Walther of the Lawrence County Softball association got in touch with Frank Christopher today and made arrangements for the softball game. The softball officials had complete cooperation from the baseball team in regard to the proposed twin bill.

The Victors will be out for their second victory since organizing in New Castle. Last week the Victors took the measure of the Mahoning A. A. 4 to 0 with Houston hurling a no-hitter.

With good weather tomorrow afternoon a banner crowd is looked for at Centennial field. Fred Shaffer, formerly of the Middle Atlantic League, will oppose the Victors. Either Paul McCullough or Houston will pitch for the Victors. Scaglione will be behind the plate for the Victors.

Victors Are Fast.

Kusma, a promising second sacker, will be with the Victors. He is being trailed by a Cleveland scout. The Victors have a galaxy of stars in their lineup. Sank McCullough is going great for the Victors and so is Cleary. Antonucci in the outfield is the fastest man in semi-pro baseball. The Victors also have several other stars. Antonucci is a great hitter.

The Victors are still trying to schedule the Ellwood City Shelleys for a game. The business manager of the Ellwood team is asked to call Frank Christopher, business manager of the Victors, at New Castle.

Clifton Flats To Battle All-Stars

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—With two peerless tandem teams at grips, one of the bitterest fights in years on a tennis court is anticipated for this afternoon's championship match of the 53rd annual United States doubles tournament.

Favored with ideal weather, a clear sky and brilliant sun, the championship battle on the Manhattan courts at the Germantown Cricket Club was expected to draw a capacity gallery of 4,000 enthuiasts of the game.

Lott and Stoefen

On one side: the defending champions, George Lott of Chicago and Lester Stoefen of Los Angeles, the tournament's top-seeded players, and winners of the 1934 Davis cup doubles.

On the other side: Ex-United States Doubles Champions Wilmer

Allison, Austin, Tex., and John Van

Ryn of Philadelphia, and former up-holders of American prestige in the Davis cup doubles division.

Lott is in pursuit of his fifth national crown, having been victorious in 1928 with John Hennessey and the two following years with John H. Doeg. Last year Lott teamed with Stoefen to regain the crown. Allison and Van Ryn, twice runners-up for the crown and once the wearers of it, are out to recapture the coveted throne.

The Lott-Stoefen duo enjoyed a birth in the finals on Thursday

by eliminating the formidable team of Berkeley Bell and Gregory Man-gin.

Elders To Play Columbia Stars

Eddie "Schoolboy" Lamm and his Elder A. C. aggregation are set for one of the most important tussles of the season scheduled for next Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock against the Columbia All Stars.

The Elders to date have defeated some of the leading sandlot combination in the city. The Columbia stars will be composed of some of the fastest players of "yester years" in the persons of Anthony "Fatty" Petrucci, Amos "Tubby" Augustine, Jimmy Copple and Clarence Klaber.

Ex-New Castle high and Duquesne grid star. The game is anticipated to be replete with action.

Ryantown Will Battle Elders

Ryantown will play the Elder A. C. at Ryantown field Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The two teams are rivals and a fast game is looked for. The Elders took the measure of the Ryantowns recently and the West Siders hope to even up the count.

Eddie "Schoolboy" Lamm will take the bill for the Elders and will be opposed by either Hill or Book for the Ryantowns.

Crucial Game Of Series Tomorrow

Sunday's Game At Bessemer To Decide Lawrence County Loop Title

MANAGERS FAIL TO NAME HURLERS

Fifth and final game of the series for the championship of the Lawrence County baseball league will be played by Bessemer and West Pittsburgh at Bessemer tomorrow. The game will start at 2:30 p. m. E. S. T. Each team has won two games. Neither manager has picked his pitcher.

Due to the bang-up baseball the teams have been playing it would not be surprising were several thousand fans to witness the game. The teams are evenly matched as the close games of the series have shown.

In the four games played Bessemer has made 28 hits and West Pittsburgh 25. West Pittsburgh has scored 13 runs and Bessemer has scored 11.

THE SPORT PATROL

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR MAJOR MANAGERS

Most of the major league managers go hunting ice skating, or even get married this winter without having their 1935 jobs to worry about. At this time, it appears that there will be less pilot switching than there has been for a great many years.

You can't put your finger on any American league post that is definitely set for a change. Nothing short of a revolution could oust Mickey Cochrane from Detroit. Connie Mack has his Philadelphia managership for as long as he wants it. And Walter Johnson has already signed his 1935 Cleveland contract.

In New York lies the one big threat to all managers. Until Babe Ruth gets located for next year, there are very few managers who can feel 100 per cent secure. However, Ruth can manage only one of the 16 clubs, though nobody seems to be finding that 25 per cent of very little is not very much.

That's Willard's price now, 25 per cent. He's using the Dempsey method of appearance, getting 25 per cent of the gate where Dempsey took 50. But Dempsey can't work the Dodger's 6 to 4, and fell back into the third slot.

Tigers Win Game.

The Braves tightened their hold on a first division berth by twice dropping the Reds, 2 to 1 and 10 to 9.

The Tigers snapped out of their short slump to wallop the Senators, 12 to 6, and increase their margin over the idle Yanks. Cochrane's crew buried Stewart under a 7-run blast in the fifth and hammered away at McColl until they had amassed 17 hits.

The only other game in the American league resulted in another victory for the Browns over the Athletics. Hadley and Andrews held the A's to five hits and won, 2 to 1.

Will Play Match With Pittsburgh

Municipal Course Golfers Will Meet South Park Team Next Month

Col. Eastin captured the 2:18 trot. Sam Rotan took the 2:12 trot. Harry Van accounted for the 3-year-old paces. Klamans finished first in the 2:20 trot and Col. Mellor landed the 2:16 trot yesterday at London. Three races were staged at Tiffin with the following winners: 2:20 pace, Dobbin; 2:19 trot, Minola V. and 2:16-old pace, Counterwill. Rain interfered with the card at Butler after three heats had been run in three cold rains. Rhoda June won the 3-year-old trot. Anna M. was second and Kernel Grew third. In the 3-year-old pace, Morley Scott was first, Marley Volo second and Guy Espr third. In the 2-year-old trot, Colonel Dean finished first, Meg second and Simpson third. At Springfield, Long Jim repeated his Hambletonian triumph of last week over Muscleton, winning the 3-year-old trot in the Grand Circuit finals with his rival second. The time was 2:04%. In the 3-year-old pace, Highland Millie captured the event and in the 2:14 class pace for half mile track horses, Viola Axton won.

The Chicago Whitesox apparently are concentrating on new ball players for Dykes, which is as it should be. Jimmy has done as well as he can be expected with the team that he has to work with.

Over in the National league Bill Terry has the Giants in first place—he can't go any higher. Benswanger says Traynor's job with the Pirates is safe. Casey Stengel's contract at Brooklyn has another year to run. The Reds have promised Dressen his job for 1935, and what a job that is!

Jimmy Wilson has reconstructed the Phils and now has a scrappy outfit even though it does appear that Brooklyn and Cincinnati are the only teams the Phils can scrap with on even terms. Bill McKechnie, the senior manager of the circuit, has satisfied at Boston. Bill hasn't enough players on his roster but that isn't his fault.

The Chicago Cubs have been getting all the managerial rumors that haven't gone. Babe Ruth's way, Grimm seems to be doing all right with a club that had serious injuries at every position on the team. Yet reports have persisted all season that Charley will not be there in 1935.

That brings us to the Cardinals, but we should skip that. Nobody will do. They have fired managers. Rogers Hornsby for example, left with a pennant. They eased Bill McKechnie out and then Bill rated a five-year contract in

"Dizzy" Dean Defeats Giants

Elder Of Dean Brothers Turns In 22nd Victory Of Season

TIGERS GAIN ON YANKEES

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—He may be as his teammates insist—a chump in the clubhouse—but if you accept the verdict of the Giants, he's a champ on the field.

The Giants have beaten the younger Dean only once in five starts but they haven't taken a single decision over the elder Dean whose record against them now reads: Won five, lost none.

The writer cannot agree with those who are forever taking a crack at Dizzy. He's a great pitcher. He's willing to pitch at any and all times. And his antics certainly add something to the gaiety of nations.

Wins 22 Games.

Moreover, it is not for Dizzy and his 23 victories where would the Cards be? Certainly not in second place as they are today. And the Giants would be so far in front there would be no interest in the race.

Dizzy turned in his fifth win against the Giants yesterday when he shut them out, 5 to 0, with five hits while his bludies were getting to Bowman and Smith for eight, two of which were homers by Rothrock and Collins.

The Cubs, facing a great chance to gain while the Cards and Giants are knocking each other around, staged their annual blow-up. They dropped their second straight to the Dodgers, 6 to 4, and fell back into the third slot.

Tigers Win Game.

The Braves tightened their hold on a first division berth by twice dropping the Reds, 2 to 1 and 10 to 9.

The Tigers snapped out of their short slump to wallop the Senators, 12 to 6, and increase their margin over the idle Yanks. Cochrane's crew buried Stewart under a 7-run blast in the fifth and hammered away at McColl until they had amassed 17 hits.

Interest in the middleweight title battle between Teddy Yarosz, the pride of Monaca, and Vince Dundee, crown holder, at Pittsburgh September 11, is growing by leaps. Teddy will resume his training at Conneaut Lake Monday and no doubt when fight night arrives there'll be hundreds of New Castle fans clustered in Forbes field, Prunkie Wertheimer and Andy Ross, who are connected with the publicity angle of the coming scrap, visited the writer yesterday and later visited Tom McMahon, the former beaute. They made arrangements with Tom to handle the New Castle reservations for the scrap and left with Tom several hundred choice seats. Instead of having to go to Pittsburgh to get choice reservations Tom can accommodate the fans.

Bartholomew Is Given Sentence To Penitentiary

Former W. & J. Physical Director Gets Three To Six Years In Prison

PLEADED GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 25.—Denied mercy of the court after he pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter, George H. Bartholomew, 49, former W. & J. physical director, today awaited transfer to Western Penitentiary to begin a three to six years' sentence in the death last June 8 of Thomas "Mitz" Manis, 23, female impersonator.

Bartholomew's eyes were steady, his face unmoved but serious, as the court pronounced sentence, ordered him to pay the prosecution costs and a $1 fine. He had been held in jail since identification of a pair of spectacles, picked up in a deserted place at Manis' death scene, as belonging to him.

The physical director told police that Manis attempted to blackmail him, demanding $300.

"I met him to talk things over," Bartholomew said in his confession. "A schuffle ensued at a lonely spot and Manis just passed out. Panic-stricken, I hid the body beside a rail fence."

There, it was found, eight days later.

Community Party Honors Birthdays

Five Local People Honored By Picnic And Party On East Cherry Street

East Cherry street residents had a delightful time Thursday evening at what was termed a "community birthday party." They gathered at the E. and A. baseball grounds, built a bonfire and roasted wieners, corn and marshmallows.

The affair honored the birthdays of Mrs. L. A. Deegan, Dorothy Stritzinger, Warren Huff, Eugene Stewart and Dick Carnes. It was attended by 110 guests.

S. E. Park and Joe Medved entertained the gathering with a number of stunts, keeping the crowd in an uproar.

It started to rain but didn't interfere with the happy spirit of the occasion for the crowd adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Martin, East Cherry street, where round and square dancing was enjoyed. S. E. Park performed a famous jig accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Maine Purcell, of Youngstown, O. Several solos were rendered by Johnny Covak, of Youngstown, O., who played his own accompaniment on the accordion.

The committee in charge of the event was comprised of Mrs. L. A. Deegan, George Huff, Mrs. Hugh Stewart and Mrs. A. F. Stritzinger.

FRIENDS AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, of East Clayton street, had dinner guests on Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Daugherty, of the Mt. Jackson road, and their son, Kenneth Daugherty, who is home on furlough from the U. S. Navy.

PIPES REPAIRED

Hot water pipes of the seventh ward fire department, which were reported in need of repairs, were put back in shape Friday afternoon by a local plumber.

COWGIRL QUINTUPLETS

One of the latest organizations to be formed in seventh ward is a band of five little cowgirls. They were to be seen trotting around the East Cherry street district Friday afternoon, with huge "guns" in their belts and heavy rubber inner-tube bands for ammunition.

Corner of North Cedar street and East Madison avenue. Rev. W. H. Downing, pastor. Sunday School at

of the city and property of the local power company. An ordinance adopted yesterday provides for an appropriation of $8,000, with which to pay the staff as yet to be employed. It may not cost that sum but council has appropriated that amount. The survey may require a dozen men and may last three months, according to Councilman Hoyland. Not long ago Erie started action along similar lines. One firm was employed to obtain statistics at the state capital. It cost Erie $500.00, according to Solicitor White. Since then a survey has got under way. It is not known what sum Erie will pay. The survey to be conducted here will include both street and domestic lighting.

Representatives of the Lawrence County Council of Parent-Teachers association evidently have won support of residents along certain streets here in their Safety for Sledriders program. They have presented signed petitions showing that residents of various streets welcome sledriding. They are willing to have the streets along which they reside closed to traffic so that the boys and girls can sled ride in safety this winter. The residents who are willing to have their thoroughfares closed live on Lathrop street, Stanton avenue, Temple avenue, Brooklyn avenue, Delaware avenue between Moody and Park avenue, Albert street and Sheridan avenue. There were several near fatalities last winter. The petitions presented Friday were referred to the committee of the whole. The master will not be left there if the action of the committee which called on council yesterday means anything. They appeared some months ago and made the request. Apparently council forgot the former request but not so the women. They came to council again yesterday. Indications are that when snow covers the streets council will be asked to take action on the petitions which now are in committee, a sort of burying place in the past for many petitions. One reason why council has always disliked to set streets aside is due to the opinion that once the city does that it becomes liable for accidents.

Solicitor White has handed a letter to council in which council is told the city is not liable for injuries sustained by Michael Stafford. Through his attorney, George Weingartner, Mr. Stafford said he was hurt when he stepped into a catch-basin at Mill and Phillips street. An investigation was made by attaches of the city solicitor's office. White said that up to the time the accident was reported there was no way of knowing the concrete beneath the iron lid had deteriorated. Had the city known the catchbasin was in a bad condition the city would be liable, is the opinion the writer draws from the solicitor.

Two of the new city police cars and the radio system received an emergency tryout yesterday when a $60,000 robbery was staged at Butler. Reports say the cars and the radio system worked fine. Broadcasts from the local police station were audible at Weighton and East New Castle. The theft recalls the store robbery at Butler which was followed by the killing of Corporal Brady Paul along the Butler highway. Recollections of this crime were recalled to the writer as he rode out the Butler-New Castle highway yesterday visiting a probable battle between police and stickup men. Heretofore there has been a feeling that there would be no holdups in the vicinity of Butler owing to the State police being stationed there and the fact that they can cover most of the roads within a short time. However, yesterday's $66,000 theft makes it appear that desperados will try anything anywhere. While it appears as though they have escaped one should not forget that Uncle Sam is on the job. A smart crook has always refrained from bothering with anything that would put Uncle Sam on the job for they say: "Uncle Sam has time and money" with which to work. This means inevitable capture as the deaths of Dillinger and Van Meter prove.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p.m., August 24, six arrests on charges follow: violation of parking law 3, drunkennes 2 and suspicion 1.

Solicitor White has handed a letter to council in which council is told the city is not liable for injuries sustained by Michael Stafford. Through his attorney, George Weingartner, Mr. Stafford said he was hurt when he stepped into a catch-basin at Mill and Phillips street. An investigation was made by attaches of the city solicitor's office. White said that up to the time the accident was reported there was no way of knowing the concrete beneath the iron lid had deteriorated. Had the city known the catchbasin was in a bad condition the city would be liable, is the opinion the writer draws from the solicitor.

Two of the new city police cars and the radio system received an emergency tryout yesterday when a $60,000 robbery was staged at Butler. Reports say the cars and the radio system worked fine. Broadcasts from the local police station were audible at Weighton and East New Castle. ## Bartholomew Is Given Sentence To Penitentiary

PLEADED GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 25.—Denied mercy of the court after he pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter, George H. Bartholomew, 49, former W. & J. physical director, today awaited transfer to Western Penitentiary to begin a three to six years' sentence in the death last June 8 of Thomas "Mitz" Manis, 23, female impersonator.

Bartholomew's eyes were steady, his face unmoved but serious, as the court pronounced sentence, ordered him to pay the prosecution costs and a $1 fine. He had been held in jail since identification of a pair of spectacles, picked up in a deserted field at Manis' death scene, as belonging to him.

The physical director told police that Manis attempted to blackmail him, demanding $300. "I met him to talk things over," Bartholomew said in his confession. "A schuffle ensued at a lonely spot and Manis just passed out. Panics struck. I hid the body beside a rail fence."

There, it was found, eight days later.

of the city and property of the local power company. An ordinance adopted yesterday provides for an appropriation of $8,800, with which to pay the staff as yet to be employed. It may not cost that sum but council has appropriated that amount. The survey may require a dozen men and may last three months, according to Councilman Hoyland. Not long ago Erie started action along similar lines. One firm was employed to obtain statistics at the state capital. It cost Erie $500, according to Solicitor White. Since then a survey has got under way. It is not known what sum Erie will pay. The survey to be conducted here will include both street and domestic lighting.

Representatives of the Lawrence County Council of Parent-Teachers association evidently have won support of residents along certain streets here in their Safety for Sledgers program. They have presented signed petitions showing that residents of various streets welcome sledriding. They are willing to have the streets along which they reside closed to traffic so that the boys and girls can sled ride in safety this winter. The residents who are willing to have their thoroughfares closed live in Lathrop street, Stanton avenue, Temple avenue, Brooklyn avenue, Delaware avenue between Moody and Park avenue, Albert street and Sheridan avenue. There were several near fatalities last winter. The petitions presented Friday were referred to the committee of the whole. The matter will not be left there if the action of the committee which called on council yesterday means anything. They appeared some months ago and made the request. Apparently council forgot the former request but not so the women. They came to council again yesterday. Indications are that when snow covers the streets council will be asked to take action on the petitions which now are in committee, a sort of burying place in the past for many petitions. One reason why council has always disliked to set streets aside is due to the opinion that once the city does that it becomes liable for accidents.

Bartholomew Is Given Sentence To Penitentiary

Former W. & J. Physical Director Gets Three To Six Years In Prison

PLEADED GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 25.—Denied mercy of the court after he pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter, George H. Bartholomew, 49, former W. & J. physical director, today awaited transfer to Western Penitentiary to begin a three to six years sentence in the death last June 8 of Thomas "Mitz" Manis, 23, female impersonator.

Bartholomew's eyes were steady, his face unmoved but serious, as the court pronounced sentence, ordered him to pay the prosecution costs and a $1 fine. He had been held in jail since identification of a pair of spectacles, picked up in a deserted field at Manis' death scene, as belonging to him.

The physical director told police that Manis attempted to blackmail him, demanding $300.

"I met him to talk things over," Bartholomew said in his confession. "A scuffle ensued at a lonely spot and Manis just passed out. Panic-stricken, I hid the body beside a rail fence."

There, it was found, eight days later.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Mrs. Ray Wills, of Tucson, Arizona, formerly of seventh ward, is visiting friends in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Stone, and family, returned to their home in Akron, O., Friday after a visit here.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Schetteman, and daughter, Beverly, of Centerville, are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Helen Anderson, of West Madison avenue, has been removed to a Pittsburgh hospital where she will undergo an operation and treatment for a month.

Mrs. Jay Phillips, of Tennessee, who has been spending the past two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Ora E. Saiter, of West Clayton street, went to Cuyahoga Falls, O., Thursday, to visit relatives.

Representatives of the Lawrence County Council of Parent-Teachers association evidently have won support of residents along certain streets here in their Safety for Sledmen program. They have presented signed petitions showing that residents of various streets welcome sledriding. They are willing to have the streets along which they reside closed to traffic so that the boys and girls can sled ride in safety this winter. The residents who are willing to have their thoroughfares closed live on Lathrop street, Stanton avenue, Temple avenue, Brooklyn avenue, Delaware avenue between Moore and Park avenue, Albert street and Sheridan avenue. There were several near fatalities last winter. The petitions presented Friday were referred to the committee of the whole. The matter will not be left there if the action of the committee which called on council yesterday means anything. They appeared some months ago and made the request. Apparently council forgot the former request but not so the women. They came to council again yesterday. Indications are that when snow covers the streets council will be asked to take action on the petitions which now are in committee, a sort of burying place in the past for many petitions. One reason why council has always disliked to set streets aside is due to the opinion that once the city does that it becomes liable for accidents.

Solicitor White has handed a letter to council in which council is told the city is not liable for injuries sustained by Michael Stafford. Through his attorney, George Weingartner, Mr. Stafford said he was hurt when he stepped into a catch-basin at Mill and Phillips street. An investigation was made by attaches of the city solicitor's office. White said that up to the time the accident was reported there was no way of knowing the concrete beneath the iron lid had deteriorated. Had the city known the catchbasin was in a bad condition the city would be liable, is the opinion the writer draws from the solicitor.

Two of the new city police cars and the radio system received an emergency tryout yesterday when a $66,000 robbery was staged at Butler. Reports say the cars and the radio system worked fine. Broadcasts from the local police station were audible at Weigeltown and East New Castle. The theft recalls the store robbery at Butler which was followed by the killing of Corporal Brady Paul along the Butler highway. Recollections of this crime are recalled to the writer as he rode out the Butler highway yesterday evening visiting a probable battle between police and pickup men. Heretofore there has been a feeling that there would be no holdups in the vicinity of Butler owing to the State police being stationed there and the fact that they can cover most of the roads within a short time. However, yesterday's $66,000 theft makes it appear that desperados will try anything anywhere. While it appears as though they have escaped one should not forget that Uncle Sam is on the job. A smart crook has always refrained from bothering with anything that would put Uncle Sam on the job for they say: "Uncle Sam has the time and money" with which to work. This means inevitable capture as the death of Dillinger and Van Meter prove.

Council met informally in Mayor Mayne's office yesterday. No doubt the meeting developed a discussion of probable engineers who will make the survey of electrical equipment of the city and property of the local power company. An ordinance adopted yesterday provides for an appropriation of $8,800, with which to pay the staff as yet to be employed. It may not cost that sum but council has appropriated that amount. The survey may require a dozen men and may last three months, according to Councilman Hoyland. Not long ago Erie started action along similar lines. One firm was employed to obtain statistics at the state capital. It cost Erie $500. According to Solicitor White, since then a survey has got under way. It is not known what sum Erie will pay. The survey to be conducted here will include both street and domestic lighting.
